

Project

Teaching and learning of postgraduate medical physics using Internet-based elearning during the COVID-19 pandemic: A case study from Malaysia

Objective

We present the implementation of e-learning in the Master of Medical Physics programme at the University of Malaya during a partial lockdown from March to June 2020 due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

Researcher

Dr. Azlan Che Ahmad (Dept. of Biomedical Imaging)

A/P Dr. Jeannie Hsiu Ding Wong (Dept. of Biomedical Imaging)

Dr. Tan Li Kuo (Dept. of Biomedical Imaging)

Mr. Muhammad Shahrin Nizam A. D. Huri (Dept. of Biomedical Imaging)

A/P Dr. Ung Ngie Min (Clinical Oncology Unit)

A/P Dr. Vinod Pallath (Medical Education and Research Development Unit)

Prof Dr. Christina Tan Phoay Lay (Dept. of Primary Care Medicine)

A/P Dr. Yeong Chai Hong (School of Medicine, Taylor's University)

Prof Dr. Ng Kwan Hoong (Dept. of Biomedical Imaging)

Contact

Dr. Azlan Che Ahmad (azlan.ahmad@ummc.edu.my)

Reference

<https://www.sciencedirect.com/science/article/abs/pii/S1120179720302453>